NETWORK MANAGEMENT

Health Choice Generations is responsible for covering services for members through a comprehensive provider network of physicians and facilities that contract with Health Choice Generations including primary care physicians, specialists, dentists, medical facilities, and ancillary service providers. The Health Choice Generations' network has been carefully developed to include those contracted healthcare professionals who meet certain criteria such as availability, location, specialty, hospital privileges, quality of care, and acceptance of Health Choice Generations managed care principles and financial considerations.

Contracted healthcare professionals are required to coordinate member care within the Health Choice Generations Provider Network. That means all referrals for Health Choice Generations Members must be directed to Health Choice Generations contracted providers. Referrals outside of the network may be permitted but only with prior authorization from Health Choice Generations.

Questions concerning the Health Choice Generations network should be directed to our Network Service Department, specifically to the attention of your Provider Service Representative. Within Health Choice Generations, the Network Service Department is the primary point of contact for providers who require assistance. Its Provider Service Representatives are responsible for getting providers information, fulfilling their requests, and serving as their liaison to other departments within Health Choice Generations. If you do not know which Provider Service Representative is assigned to you, use the following Exhibit 1.1 to determine the appropriate office to call in your area for assistance. Please do not hesitate to contact your Provider Service Representative whenever necessary.
